Dead Soldier

Cannon Ball, N. D., May 20.—People gathered from all over the Sioux country this afternoon to pay homage to Albert Grass, last hereditary chief of the Sioux Indians, whose body was brought back from France, where he died fighting as a private in the American army.

The funeral service was held in the little Catholic church here, and the body of the young chieftain will rest on the slopes of Holy Hill, an elevation overlooking the Missouri.

Indians gathered to participate in tribal ceremonies before the sacred church ceremony was held. Jerome Elk, aged 70, who is said to have helped massacre the Custer soldiers in the battle of the Little Big Horn, led the death chant of the Indians.

Three thousand Indians were encamped here for the ceremony, and white people came in automobiles and on trains to witness the strange mingling of the ancient rites of tribute to a brave warrior of the Indians and the solemn tribute of the former service men of the United States army to one of their fallen comrades.

The White Horse Riders met the body of the young Indian chief when it arrived at Cannon Ball. Clad in resplendent and grotesque costumes the members of the ancient Indian society marched to the little Catholic church with the body. Last night the wailing of the Indians in honor of the dead could be heard from all the hillsides and valleys where the Indians were encamped.

Funeral of George Snook.

With the body of Albert Grass there arrived in Mandan the body of George Snook, of Pretty Rock, Grant county, bordering the reservation. Snook was probably the youngest member of the old First North Dakota regiment, he being 18 when he left his school work in the State School of Science at Wahpeton, but he did not reach his eighteenth birthday until the day before his regiment left for training camp some months later.

The body of the brave young white soldier was taken from Mandan to Elgin, where it was laid to rest, with the Grant county post of the American Legion in charge, yesterday afternoon.

AT MINOT TODAY

Minot, N. D., May 20.—Fire starting from unknown origin in the basement of the Home Furniture company at 3 30 a. m. today caused practically a total loss to $46,000 worth of furniture and left only the four walls of the store building standing. The store was the largest furniture establishment in northwestern North Dakota. Total loss caused by the fire will exceed $60,000, which is partly covered by insurance. The store and building was owned by C. H. Parker, Louis Smith, Dr. C. F. Sweet and George McGee.

COLLEGE WILL TRAIN EMPLOYERS

MORGAN IS AN ENGINEER-
EDUCATOR AND COLLEGE
PRESIDENTHE HASN'T TIME TO PLAY—
NOT EVEN GOLF

PRESIDENT ARTHUR E. MORGAN OF ANTIOCH COLLEGE.

Ohio Institution Will Put Practice Before Theory

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Yellow Springs, Ohio, May 20. Practice takes precedence over theory under the new plan of Antioch college. This for the first time in the history of modern colleges.

The new policy results from putting a practical engineer at the head of the college. He is Arthur E. Morgan, who supervised the flood prevention projects in the Miami Valley near Dayton, O.

"The success of the small college in this country depends on its ability to pick out some small part of the educational problem and do it better than the big university does it," says Morgan.

To Train Employers.
"Antioch has chosen the field of training proprietors—men who are to be employers, not employees. The number of people in the United States who are managers of their own time and resources, rather than employees working under direction, aggregate several millions.

"This number includes farmers, merchants, contractors, manufacturers and professional men and women in private practice. Successful management requires a very definite type of ability. The manager must have the ability to co-ordinate all elements into an organic whole.

"He must have a sound knowledge of men and affairs and a personality developed in foresight, caution, courage, tact and initiative."

Students' Training.

Students will spend part of their time in classroom and part of it in establishments where they can gain practice in their professions.

They will contract for jobs, buy supplies, complete the job, collect the money and divide the profits. They will be thrown on their own resources.

All of this is new, but Antioch college is old. It was founded in 1833 with Horace Mann as its first president. The entire student body enlisted in the Civil war, the men as soldiers, the women as nurses.

Antioch was a leader under Horace Mann in offering equal opportunities to men and women. Women will be admitted with men to the new courses in management and proprietorship.

Special attention will be paid to athletics and physical condition of students.

And about Morgan, new head of the college. Says one of his associates: "He works three times as hard as any other man. Doesn't know how to play—not even golf. Likes high-brow music and lectures, but hasn't time for popular theatricals. His pleasure is in seeing his work prove successful and being able to do things well."

He established the Morgan Engineering Company of Memphis, Tenn. He supervised some of the biggest drainage jobs in the south.

He is 45, married and has three children. He is president of the National Progressive Education Association.

"My aim is to help the student find himself," says Morgan, "to help him to a well-proportioned development of personality through cultural courses, leaving him with a keen appetite for knowledge, to build in him sound character; to arouse enlightened moral enthusiasm so that his whole preparation for life will be but a means of making him a good citizen, a good parent; to make him a man who for himself has found the significance of life as a whole."

Holds County Cannot
Otherwise Function

HOLDS ACTION ILLEGAL

"The exigency which warrants the issuance of the peremptory writ of mandamus directed to it P. Knappen, former county treasurer, and the bank of North Dakota, to turn over funds to J. A. Flow, the new Burleigh county treasurer, is described in the formal order as 'that the exigencies of the case are such that the sum of $150,000, represented by the purported time certificates of deposit above described numbered 419 to 423, inclusive, and the said sum of $251,495.70, must be speedily available in order to permit the county of Burleigh and its various political subdivisions to function as governmental units.'"

The conclusions of law are stated as follows:

"That the action of the said H. P. Knappen and the bank of North Dakota, its officers and agents, in so transferring the said $150,000 of the general funds of Burleigh county, and issuing the said time certificates of deposit, was illegal, contrary to law and void; that for the purposes of and under the issues in this proceeding, and in contemplation of law the said sums represented by the said certificates of deposit stand in the same position and status legally as if the said certificates of deposit had not been issued, and in the eyes of the law the character of the said funds above referred to and the right of the treasurer of Burleigh county to issue checks on the bank of North Dakota, and issuing the said funds has not been changed, by reason of the said device and subterfuge; that in resorting to the said device and subterfuge, it having been knowingly and willfully done by all the parties defendant, so far as the exchange of those funds from funds subject to check to funds on time certificates of deposit, the bank of North Dakota, its officers and agents, acted solely and only as and were the agents of the said H. P. Knappen in carrying out said unlawful and void act."

Knappen will appeal the case. No bond will be required during appeal.

RURAL CREDITS

BY R. A. NESTOSIndependent Nominee For Governor Outlines Position on Bank

EXPLAINS HIS IDEAS

Expands Upon Minot Statement on Bank Issued After His Nomination

Grand Forks, May 20.—The independent forces propose to elevate the bank of North Dakota from its present position of expensive uselessness into a rural credit system, similar to that of South Dakota that both can and will serve the people of our state efficiently and well. R. A. Nestos, of Minot, independent candidate for governor, declared here last night when addressing a meeting in the Grand Forks auditorium held in honor of Svenbjorn Johnson, of Grand Forks, candidate for attorney general. Mr. Nestos was invited to speak by those arranging the meeting and he accepted the occasion as an opportunity to state his position on the bank of North Dakota in terms which could not be misunderstood.

The speech of Mr. Nestos was delivered at a big independent rally held in the auditorium here. A parade of citizens preceded the speaking, with a band leading. J. P. T. O'Connor presided and in addition to Mr. Nestos, Svenbjorn Johnson, candidate for attorney general, spoke.

"The reason for predicting success at the recall election," Mr. Nestos said, "is the fact that the convention at Devils Lake adopted a program that will appeal to all responsible and sensible people as an honest, earnest effort to bring order out of financial chaos now existing and prosperity to the people of our state. By this program it is proposed to reduce the debt limit of the state from $12,000,000 to $7,500,000, that being the estimate of the amount that will be required in order to pay off the frozen funds and which are tied up at the present time. In addition to that this money will be used to complete the building already commenced, to straighten out the affairs of the home builder, association and to bring it to a close with the least possible cost to the people, and to furnish the funds for an economical and efficient operation of the mill and elevator in Grand Forks, in order that this portion of the industrial program might have a fair and honest trial. With the money thus provided, we will also be in a position to bring the bank of North Dakota out of the present muddle and to bring its affairs to a speedy close.

LeSueur Rejects Bank
"Even LeSueur, the man who, together with Roylance, spent most of 1918 in gathering material for the preparation of the industrial commission and Bank of North Dakota bill, states that the provisions incorporated in those bills as finally passed made the success of the bank impossible and its failure a foregone conclusion. The management has accentuated the evils contained in the laws, with the result that the bank has proven the most miserable failure and fiasco of the whole industrial program. Independent forces propose to elevate the bank of North Dakota from its present position of expensive uselessness into a rural credits system, similar to that of South Dakota, that both can and will serve the people of our state efficiently and well. The program adopted at the Devils Lake convention met with my hearty approval then and does now."

April 13 I made a short talk at a meeting at Minot similar to the one held here tonight and in that talk I touched upon some portions of the program adopted at the Devils Lake convention. The Fargo Courier News (Continued on Page Seven)

"I WANT A SWIMMING POOL," IS TAG
WORN BY KIDDIES SELLING CEMENT

"I want a Swimming Pool!"—With this tag in red letters pinned on them, every school boy and girl will start out bright and early Saturday morning to canvass the town.

"Give a bag of cement," will be the slogan and "help us 'kiddie' to a swimming pool."

The enthusiasm was worked up this afternoon, when the school children, headed by the Elks band, paraded the city.

Spencer Boise will marshal his army of canvassers bright and early and it is hoped that every home and business place will be solicited by night and that the drive will be put over in one major effort.

It is estimated that there are 1,600 homes in Bismarck and it will take an average of eight sacks of cement to the family.

Each family is asked to give that amount if possible and those in better circumstances are asked to give over that figure so as to maintain the average.

It is expected that the pool will cost about $12,000 but every cent collected over the amount needed will go to improving the grounds or providing some comfort for the children in the city.

Help make the boys and girls job easy tomorrow.

While Praising Friendship He Holds U. S. Apart From European Affairs

London, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Newspapers of this city feature the address made last night by George Harvey, U. S. ambassador. Announcement was made by Mr. Harvey that he had been directed by the state department in Washington to represent America at the meeting of the supreme council at which the question of Silesia is to be considered and that the United States under no possible circumstances could be led into the League of Nations.

Only two or three newspapers commented editorially upon the ambassador's speech, apparently because of the late hour at which Mr. Harvey spoke. There journals welcomed the ambassador's expression of friendship, his frankness and commended his address in general.

The Daily News, however, declared itself perplexed by America's repudiation of the League of Nations.

Won't Interfere.
The Chronicle remarked: "Nobody here has any desire to press the channels in which America's good will may flow and just as we gave Mr. Wilson straightforward co-operation in founding the league so we will co-operate in the same spirit with Mr. Harding outside the league."

The Daily Express welcomed especially the American ambassador's pronouncement of the League of Nations which is described as "the end of expensive sham."

Calls League Dead.
"The league as an instrument of practical idealism," the newspaper added, "is dead and it is best to wind up its affairs with as little cost as it may be."

The Express declared it saw in American co-operation the only hope for Europe's regeneration remarking: "There is now hope for old war-battered Europe in the help of a younger soul. The League of Nations has found a firmer substitute."

London, May 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American ambassador, George Harvey, in his first speech since presenting his credentials, declared last night that American armed forces came to Europe in the World war solely to save the United States and not to save European states opposed to Germany, as some had contended.

His address, delivered at a dinner given by the Pilgrim's society in his honor, attracted especial interest, coming as it did at a time when the probable attitude of the United States toward the tense political situation in Europe is arousing lively speculation, and as the first authorized expression of the American viewpoint.

Mr. Harvey enlivened the Pilgrims as the most distinct and the chain of blood relationship between the British and American peoples, and one of the most potent agencies of civilization. Their activities, he said, had been a sustained labor of love and patriotism, which only now were beginning to fructify in an earnest desire and determination of the part of

The state highway commission has available but one man to maintain state highways in North Dakota, according to W. H. Robinson, state engineer. Some provision must be made for state maintenance of these roads in the future, in Mr. Robinson's opinion.

Five hundred and twenty-five miles of state road work is now under contract in the state, he said, including 275 miles let this year and a contract let last year and held over. The federal government which pays approximately one-half the expense while the counties pay the remainder, except for the engineering work furnished by the state, will spend $1,125,000 on state roads this year, according to Mr. Robinson, including federal money spent on the Missouri river bridge.

A few additional state aid projects are to be let in the next few weeks, he said.

LANDS MUST BE LISTED BEFORE CLAIMING LOSS

Supreme Court Makes Decision in Hall Insurance Case Affecting Many

OWNER IS HELD LIABLE

Failure of Assessor to List Land is Held No Excuse To Collect

A large number of farmers will be deprived of hail insurance money and the state department saved $10,000 on claims already filed, as a result of a decision of the supreme court denying liability against the department due to the assessors' negligence in failing to list land.

The decision is held to be an important one affecting the department. There are about 25 claims of this nature on file, and had the decision been adverse to the state department it is probable that there would have been numerous other claims filed.

The case was appealed by the state department from the Burleigh county district court, which is reversed. Harry J. Jensen, who owned land in Mercer county, filed suit for about $1,200 alleged due for hail loss. The assessor did not return his land to the county auditor, nor did he file with the county auditor any return or certificate that any land was in crop and subject to hail insurance.

Loss Reported
In July a hail loss was reported and adjusted. After the storm the assessor made a report to the county auditor. The Commissioner of Insurance, ascertaining that the plaintiff's land had not been listed before the storm and classified as such, the number of acres cropped, cancelled the adjustment.

The supreme court holds that insurance provided for in the law does apply automatically and that where an assessor has not classified land as tillable and had made no return to the county auditor as required by law, showing the number of cultivated acres, and where the owner had not made the affidavit required by section 6 of the hail insurance act, his risk is not covered and he is not entitled to recover indemnity upon an attempted compliance with the law in the month of July after the loss has been sustained by hail.

Duty of Owner
The primary duty of returning a statement of cultivated acreage devolves upon the owner.

The hail insurance law, when it was reenacted by the legislature during last winter, was changed to explicitly provide that the department shall not be liable unless lands were listed, failure of the assessor or owner to list lands depriving him of insurance.

Banish Blue Monday

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING
Blue Monday is your bugbear—I hear you say!
And Sunday is a day of wreck instead of rest and you feel, when it is over, like disturbing the dignity of the family cat by stepping on its tail, and you want to throw something through your neighbor's window, and quarrel with your favorite aunt, and talk back to the telephone girl.
There isn't anything really wrong with you. You've just eaten too much—that's all.

Ask your doctor—he'll tell you that the day after a holiday is his harvest day—simply because people will put too much food in their stomachs.

If you're willing to experiment, with me, when you're not, have that mad desire to quarrel with your family, followed Monday morning with a heavy-as-lead feeling, then—

Eat a good breakfast at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and stay away from the dining room, the restaurant and the refrigerator until evening, when, if you'll remember the rule of moderation, you may eat supper.

You'll see the virtue of this plan immediately—less work in the kitchen and a body which isn't literally stuffed! And you'll find that you can walk, read and even think a little on Sunday and enjoy it!

REX CHORUS GIRLS CONTEST TONIGHT

The Rex which is playing vaudeville and feature pictures changing the program every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, will have a Chorus Girls Contest tonight when each chorus girl does a specialty in addition to the regular show, these novelty events always draw large crowds to this popular play house, Friday Night is Amateur Night and at the Saturday matinee a box of Brier Rabbit Candy is given to every child who attends the popular priced matinee.

FRENCH AIDING POLES TO HOLD UPPER SILESIA

Countess, Daughter of American Ambassador, Describes Conditions

Berlin May 19.—(By the Associated Press)—Order cannot be restored in Upper Silesia while General Leron or any other French commands the inter-allied forces to whom is entrusted the execution of the Versailles treaty, said Countess Scherr-Thoss who arrived here yesterday with other refugees, who had escaped from the area affected by the Polish insurrection in the plebiscite area. The countess is the daughter of Henry White, member of the American delegation at the Versailles peace conference.

"When an Englishman or an Italian is given command there," she declared, "Germans will have confidence and it will be possible to restore order and disband the volunteer forces organized to protect the right granted by the Versailles treaty. The French have permitted the Poles to have arms and assisted them in every possible way in their preparations for overthrowing Upper Silesia. They even withdrew the guard from railway bridges so that the Poles could dynamite them.

"In the country over-run by the Poles persons of all classes who had voted in favor of Germany were persecuted. School members in particular were attacked. At Rauden near Rudolfsort they tortured a school master to death and subjected his daughters to horrible indignities. The aged duke and duchess of Radibor were robbed and mistreated but finally were saved by Italian officers.

ZORA HUMAN PACK HORSE 147 YEARS OLD

Constantinople, May 19.—Zora, the "human pack horse," who claims to be 147 years old and still can carry 200 pounds with ease, attributes his long life and health to hard work and proper diet. He has always been a carrier of heavy weights.

His rules of health are: Hard work, sleep, cold baths at night, no tobacco, no alcohol, no coffee, no meat, no oils, no butter, no drinking water but plenty of hot tea, honey, sugar, cakes, bread and cheese, particularly butter, milk or clabber. Every five years he takes a three months' rest in his native home in the country.

Whatever his age, Zora is a picture of health and physical vigor, mentally alert, benign, and frequently blesses the curious American sailors who visit him at his favorite cafe on the Galata waterfront.

He is five feet ten inches tall, deep breasted and has the carriage of a sheik. He is almost bald, his face is long and covered with a shiny nut-brown skin.

His eyesight and memory are good and he recalls the days when the first steamship came to Constantinople. He says he worked as a peasant at Bitlis until the age of 37 when he came to Constantinople to work at the Turkish Arsenal and that he worked there for 30 years.

Zora has been married four times. All of his wives are dead, and all but two of his children. His son, Osman, aged 97, being in poor health, recently returned to Bitlis. His daughter, Gonul hanem, aged 60 is married and healthy. Zora's father died at the age of 76, and his mother at the age of 83.

Zora isn't rich because of so many expenses in caring for his family. He lives in a Kurd khan where he pays a dollar and a half month for a place to sleep and hot water to make his tea. "What I want is work," declared

Zora. "Idleness will ruin my health. I'll pray all my life for him who giveth me work. Health, happiness and wisdom come from work only."

Asked if he intended to join the Turkish National army, Zora smiled benevolently and shook his head. "I fought many times for my country and now I wish to and my life in prayer for the prosperity of the Empire," he said.

Firestone Plant No. 2

Daily Capacity 16,000 Tires; 20,000 Tubes

Devoted Exclusively to the Manufacture of 30x3½ Size Non-Skid Type

How the Price of $13.95 on 30x3½-inch Firestone Tires Was Made Possible

It is in this period of much-needed economy that the full benefit of Firestone's development can best be recognized.

The advantage of having two great individual plants has permitted specialization in the highest degree. Plant No. 1 is devoted to the production of Firestone cords—tires that are accepted as the highest development of tire building. Tire repair men who judge values best, class it as the sturdiest carcass made. Forty-seven car manufacturers have adopted Firestone cords as regular equipment during 1921.

Plant No. 2 was erected for the sole purpose of making 30x3½ Non-Skid fabric tires. With a daily capacity of 16,000 tires and 20,000 tubes, this plant permits refined production on a quantity basis. Its output was 13,700 tires per day during April.

It is such basic economies that enable Firestone to make a price of $13.95 on this standard 30x3½ tire—the lowest price ever made on a standard tire.

Firestone dealers help make this $13.95 price possible by accepting a smaller profit per sale on this fast selling tire.

We see today the fulfilling of what Firestone men have worked for—public support in soundly ratifying the Firestone standard of "Most Miles per Dollar."

Plain seeds and setting out of vegetable plants. Our stock of Geraniums, Heliotropes, Petunias, Marguerites, Pansies, etc., is the best we have ever had and at prices that are right.

In vegetable plants we grow only the best varieties which are adapted to garden use in this Northern climate and have been grown with the idea of having well rooted and healthy plants when ready to set out. We wish to call attention to the put grown vegetable plants listed below. While they cost more than the transplants, they will bear two or three weeks sooner than the others, and will make a full crop in seasons of early frost. MUSICAL CLUB TO
BRING GREATEST ARTISTS TO CITY

The Thursday Musical club of Bismarck has outlined a program whereby it hopes to place the club in a position to continue to bring to the city each year for the enjoyment of local people at least one of the great artists of the musical world. The club will give its first annual concert on Friday, May 27. The club members who are arranging the program, have unselfishly decided to use the proceeds from the concert to be added to a guaranty fund, and a portion for local extension work in music. A guaranty fund is a necessity when one of the great artists of the country is engaged, and if generous support is given to the artists' concert the necessity of burdensome solicitation may be avoided and assurance provided that the club will be able to bring to the city the artist it seeks and the people of the city desire to hear. The Thursday Musical club has about forty members, and interest has grown in the club during its six years of organization. The club holds membership in the state and national federations of music clubs, and the music department of the State Federation of Women's clubs. The club has supported musical extension work throughout the state and has brought many fine artists to the city. Two years ago the club brought Maude Powell here and last year the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. Werrenbach has been engaged for this year.

MISSIONER TELLS STORY OF HIS LIFE

H. H. Hadley of "The Open Door" Mission New York Interesting Character

A REFORMED GAMBLER

Boyhood and Early Life Spent in the Underworld of Nation's Metropolis

Home environment, the lifelong influence of a Christian household is held to be the single most powerful factor in the moulding of a life by H. H. Hadley, layman missionary. With his co-worker, E. C. Mercer, of New York City, Mr. Hadley is conducting a mission at Christ Episcopal church, and his life story, as dramatic as any in the realm of fiction, bears witness to the truth of what he preaches.

Left Motherless
Through the death of his mother when he was an infant in arms and the consequent breaking up of a home he was given to a grandfather to raise, while his father, stunned and broken by his loss, dropped lower and lower and finally into the underworld which keeps its own secrets. The child was 14 before he ever saw his father or realized that he had one. To all intents and purposes he was fully orphaned.

Notorious Gambler
His grandfather, in partnership with the notorious Bill Lovell, a widely known gambler and character of the half world at that time, operated a racetrack farm near the Long Branch track. Here the boy, during his most formative years, lived the life of the racetrack crowd, learned every trick of the cards and the ponies. Religious training or influence was naturally lacking. Sunday was the "big day," gamblers and racetrack habitués getting ready for the influx of crowds from New York City. The only kind or tender influence during all that time was that of an aunt, and eventually she was murdered by a well known New Yorker, and this tragedy completed the hardening process.

Father is Reformed
Then he met his father, whom memories of early training and of God-fearing parents had finally reformed. Superintendent of McAuley Mission. This man, Samuel H. Hadley, was for years superintendent of the Jerry McAuley mission on Water street, and finally gave his life in the struggle to help the "down-and-outers" with whom he worked. Realizing the bitter injustice done his son, he at length endeavored to make of him the man he was meant to be. He had him baptized and confirmed, sent him to an expensive "prep" school and tried in every way to right the wrong influences of his tender years. Too late! Harry Hadley refused to go to school or try for college and for eight years, with a partner, ran a "high brow" gambling joint up on the west side. Then his father died, and he, after nearly killing himself with cards, drink and drugs and all the evils that follow in their train, attempted suicide. It was then that mission workers, former associates of his father, prevailed upon him to leave his former life and its contaminating vices.

Chaplain at Toombs
Since then, for 15 years, he has done rescue work. He has a little mission on Hudson street, in the Greenwich Village district, "The Open Door", where with 25 other men he spends his days helping the poor, the weak, the lost of soul and body, who drift in. And he can help, he has "been there", he knows.
Mr. Hadley is also chaplain at the Toombs, Bismarck Island and Hart's Island. On the mission trips he and Mr. Mercer pay their own expenses, with the exception of whatever free will offering is given on each Sunday morning. They are not connected directly with any church, but work with them all for the good of humanity and to secure as much as possible, all youth from the deadening influences which they themselves have known. Rev. Hadley will speak Sunday morning at St. George's church, Bismarck.

Make it a point to meet your friends at the New Garrick.

ADVENTISTS TO HOLD MEETING

The Rev. W. E. Jensen was in Mandan this week overseeing final arrangements for the big camp meeting of the Seventh Day Adventists, which will be held here beginning on June 16 and lasting ten days.

The Fair Association has granted the use of all buildings and the Fair grounds, since the Chautauqua park would be too small to accommodate the campers. Fifteen hundred people at least will be in attendance. The Adventists will have four large tents and four meetings in as many languages going all the time.

Four carloads of equipment will be shipped here from Jamestown, which is headquarters for this sect in this state.

MRS. MARY McLEAN GUEST AT CUSTER BALL BEFORE TROOPS STARTED

In connection with the forty-fifth anniversary of the departure of General Custer and his troops for the Little Big Horn, where they met their deaths, it might be interesting to note that Mrs. Mary McLean of Bismarck, mother of C. C. McLean of the Russell-Miller Milling company, was a guest at the ball given in the old Custer house on the Friday preceding their departure.

She, with other Bismarck people, drove to the dance, and she danced with both Tom and Boston Custer on that occasion. Tom Custer was the General's brother and Boston was a cousin out to visit the Fort and to get his first glimpse of the wild west of that period. Indians who have related the circumstances of the fight say that Tom Custer and one other man rode with the General at the head of the troops. Those three were the first to fall. Boston Custer's body was never identified.

NURSES WILL STAY AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

All the nurses who were graduated last week from the Mandan Deaconess Training school will remain with the local institution, with the single exception of one, Miss Agnes Peterson, who has gone to her home for a visit. Two of the class have been retained in executive positions and the other three are nursing.

The training school is planning to enter a large class the first week in July. Some splendid recommendations have been received from young women in various parts of the state, three girls having applied from Grand Forks alone. The hospital, under the management of the Methodist Deaconesses, gives every promise of being a wonderful asset to the town.

SEEDING PRACTICALLY DONE AT SCHOOL

Officers from the State Training school report that practically all of their seeding is done, and the 175 acres of truck stuff and alfalfa which they have under cultivation is in condition to get the most advantage from the unusual number of May rains. The Training School team will play the Penitentiary team on Sunday at the Penitentiary grounds. Their school graduation exercises will take place during the first week in June, but the exact date has not been set.

REPORT GOOD ATTENDANCE
Miss Clara Mueller, Superintendent of the Mandan hospital and the Misses Reed and Fredericks who accompanied her to Steele, report a splendid attendance at the Epworth League gathering there, including delegations from Mandan, Bismarck and all the surrounding towns. Rev. Thatcher in his address gave Mandan several glowing tributes.

LEFT THURSDAY
Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ellis left on Thursday evening for Austin, Minn., to visit relatives. They will remain for several weeks and combine a pleasure trip with attention to business interests.

LEFT THURSDAY
John Timmerman of the Equity bank left Thursday for a fortnight's visit to the twin cities. He will return via Grand Forks, where he will take the Scottish Rite.

Return to Work

Turns Failure Into Success

MISS ADA SMITH

GIRL WINS AS DEALER IN MEN'S CLOTHING

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Salina, Kan. May 18.—Seven years ago Ada Smith, then 17, returned to "the old home town." Her family was engaged in the men's clothing business and their store was "on the rocks."

Miss Smith had been working as a stenographer in Chicago and going to night school. She had saved $587 for a course in the University of Chicago to become a welfare worker.

Miss Smith stayed home to take charge of the store. It's debt aggregated $4,000. It was on wholesalers' black lists. It owed $900 back rent. The girl paid creditors $5 to $50 from her savings. After much argument she obtained a credit of $100 for latest style haberdashery to change the "tone" of the shop.

Today she has paid off all debts, has furnished the store with modern fixtures, has an up-to-the-minute stock, and is doing an annual business of $65,000 to $75,000.

"I was told that a woman couldn't succeed in a men's clothing business," says Miss Smith. "I told them I would show 'em, if they'd give me the chance."

"What it took to succeed was determination—and work, hard work. I had no false pride. Even today, with success assured, I get down on my knees with a mouth full of pins to take measurements of suits."

Miss Smith belongs to the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association and the Dorian Club of Business and Professional Women.

And she has built a new home for her mother and is educating her brothers.

number of contestants. Her prowess in the culinary art by defeating all the other contestants in the state is a unique honor.

In the woodwork exhibit the boys of the manual training class won third place with a library table which had been shipped to Fargo for the judges to inspect. The members who were responsible for the work were Thomas Truax, Leonard Flinn, Jack Proctor and Harold Redington.

Other point winners were, Edna Kuhnert, first in second year sewing exhibit, dress department; Gertrude Grabarkewitz, second in first year sewing exhibit, dress department; Dorothy Brenton, second in second year sewing.

The Wilton high school was awarded the prize of a practical library book for taking second place among the high schools of the state and each of the individual winners also received prizes.

WILTON SCHOOL CHILDREN TAKE STATE HONORS

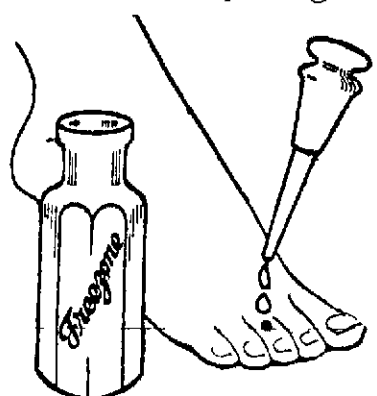

Wilton, May 20.—Wilton representatives won second place in the industrial exhibit of North Dakota high schools at the Agricultural college, Fargo, held in connection with the annual May day festival last week.

Fargo won first place and contestants were entered from Minot, Valley City, Lidgerwood, Drayton, Page, Crosby, Larimore, Mayville and Hunter.

A feature of the various events was the pie baking contest which was won by Myrel MacMartin from a large

GRAIN OUTLOOK IS PROMISING COMPANY SAYS

Weekly Survey by Minneapolis Firm Points to Northwest Conditions

At present the outlook for the grain crops of the Northwest is very promising. Seeding has been done under favorable conditions. The season was early and the ground preparation considerable above the average. There has been fine spring rains and the cold weather has allowed the grain to develop strong roots. Most of the wheat, barley and oats seeded are above ground and show a healthy stand.

Our late reports on the general crop conditions in Montana show a big improvement over two or three weeks ago. The recent rains have been of great benefit to the dry districts. On several occasions during the past week there were hard freezes throughout the Northwest. It did not seem to affect wheat, but barley and oats in some places have been frozen. We believe, however, that only small damage has been done to the grain crops, but fruit and vegetables have undoubtedly been hurt.

The seeding of barley and oats continues in the Northwest districts, as it has been delayed because of wet and cold weather.

Corn planting is under way in South Dakota and Minnesota. The weather has been too cold for early planted corn, and it is making slow headway.

A large acreage of potatoes is predicted. The hay crop, with the exceptions of a few localities, is good. There is plenty of farm labor at nearly all points. Wages have declined and men can now be hired from $35 to $40 a month.

We have never seen a season when farmers have taken so little interest in flax. During the war, prices were extremely high. Since that time there has been a continual decline, until today, they seem very low to the farmers. Our reports indicate that some early sown flax in Minnesota and South Dakota has been damaged by the cold weather.

LEGION TELLS THE STORY OF GREAT CONFLICT

Fargo, N. D., May 20.—A hallowed mantle of the Grand Army of the Republic falls upon the young shoulders of the American Legion on Memorial day of this year. Blue uniformed, with medals upon his breast, the white-haired veteran of the Civil war made the Memorial day round of the school houses in former years. This year it is the Legion members who will visit the school houses in many communities, telling of a different conflict but teaching the same lessons. Department headquarters of the

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth."

"Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days."

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was indeed and happy to appreciate my state of mind when I was told that the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

It has been proved in very many cases that hair roots did not die even when the hair fell out through dandruff, fever, alopecia areata, or certain other scalp disorders.

PROOF BOX KOTALKO contains GENUINE BEAR OIL and other potent ingredients. No alcohol, no shampoo, but a compound of wonderful efficacy, safe and harmless even for a child's scalp and hair.

Positively KOTALKO is one of the most reliable hair preparations that succeed upon genuine merit. Buy a box of KOTALKO at the drug store. Or ask for Kotalko at the toilet goods or drug counter of any large department store. Remember the name. Accept nothing else as "just as good." Money back GUARANTEED. Or if you send 10 cents (silver or stamp) for a part of mailing and adv. cost only, you will receive your PROOF BOX of Kotalko with BROCHURE, postpaid. We shall also be pleased to send you a big array of voluntary testimonials from men and women. Determine NOW to eliminate DANDRUFF, to treat BALDNESS, to STOP HAIR FROM FALLING. OVERSEAS ROMANCE CULMINATES HERE IN WEDDING OF YOUNG GREEK COUPLE

Miss Tula Marinos, who came from Gargallani, Greece, and George Kocanis, who came from Glendive, Montana, were united in marriage at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bougas, on First street, the culmination of an engagement which began six years ago when the groom was a soldier in the Greek army and met the bride in their native city.

The ceremony was after the custom of the Greek Orthodox Catholic church. Rev. Demakopoulos, Greek Catholic priest of Minneapolis, presiding. Accompanying the bride from Greece were her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Marinos. Mr. Marinos is proprietor of a large flour mill and has other extensive business interests.

When the time was announced for the ceremony the bride came down the stairs leaning on the arm of her father, and waiting in the long living room was the groom, the best man, Andrew Bougas, Mrs. Geo. Psidolinos, matron of honor, and Mrs. Dannie Bougas, bridesmaid. The bride's wedding gown was of pink organdie, her veil was surmounted by a flowered wreath and she carried a shower bouquet tied with tulle. Following the ceremony a five-course supper was served.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zappas, of Jamestown; Thomas Lewis, of Glendive, Mont.; and the assembly included a few invited guests of this city.

The bride and groom will leave in a few days for Glendive, Mont., where they will make their home, Mr. Kocanis operating a large cafe there. The happy couple received a large number of pretty and useful wedding gifts.

DR. BRANDT AND BRIDE HOME

Dr. A. M. Brandt and bride arrived on Thursday afternoon, after an extended trip. Dr. Brandt surprised his host of friends in Bismarck and Burleigh county by quietly going off on a wedding trip some weeks ago, the happy bride being Miss Adeline Miner of Minneapolis.

The young couple have at once gone to housekeeping in a cozy apartment on the first floor of the Woodmansee apartment house on Fifth street.

Bismarck friends will be delighted to welcome Mrs. Brandt to the city and to wish for the doctor and his bride every success and happiness.

ART SOCIAL FINE DISPLAY
The art exhibit given at the parlors of the Presbyterian church in connection with the Aid social on Thursday afternoon was a very creditable display of rare and artistic articles together with historic relics.

Arranged on tables according to country or according to class, were found displays of North Dakota pottery and pottery plays, giving an excellent story of the pottery industry of our own state, from the photograph of a kaline butte to the lovely finished product in vase and tile. In striking contrast were the pieces of Indian pottery done by the Hopi Indians, equally beautiful in their own peculiar way. English, French, Italian, Scandinavian, Dutch, German, Chinese, Japanese, Mexican and American pottery, all represented by rare pieces loaned by families in town, completed a beautiful and informing exhibit in ceramics.

There were rare laces in pillow lace, Irish crochet, Florentine, and needle, woven articles from foreign lands, lovely lunch sets showing many schools of embroidery and design that were loaned from the treasure chests of women who love the beautiful, also basketry showing skill and artistic expression. A group of fibre articles from Samoa, showed the art of those peoples while many curious knick-knacks were scattered about that were worthy of close and interested study.

Among the historic relics were found many articles from the home of Edwin M. Stanton, Lincoln's Secretary of War, including the die used by him for his cards, his old silver watch, a sterling christening mug, an engraved invitation to an affair of state during the administration, and many rare curios picked up by Secretary Stanton in his travels. This collection was loaned by Dr. E. M. Stanton of the Department of Public Health in Bismarck, Dr. Stanton being a grandson of Secretary of War E. M. Stanton. Major R. M. Reid, and several returned soldiers loaned the war trappings brought back from France, all clearly and neatly labeled.

MRS. WALLACE HOSTESS.
A pretty evening affair given for Miss Anne Atkinson was the kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. J. G. Wallace, 614 Raymond avenue, on Thursday evening when 23 young women were bidden in a clever and original rhyme. The hostess had arranged a large white bell hanging from the center of the room to which were attached ribbons that were wound about in a most puzzling fashion. The fashion. The honor guest was required to trace the winding ribbons to their end, and to each one was found attached a useful kitchen utensil, hidden under articles in the room. A decorative scheme of pink and white was effective in the pretty home of the hostess. Refreshments were served during the evening.

HERE FOR PRE-NUPTIAL PARTIES
Mrs. Basil King (Nan Cushing), is the house guest of Mrs. T. R. Atkinson over the week-end, having come on from her home at Dawson to attend the functions given this week in honor of Miss Anne Atkinson. Mrs. King was an out of town guest at the party given by Mrs. Wallace last evening. She will also attend the breakfast to be given by Mrs. Dill Register and Mrs. F. Elmer Heiden at the County Club Saturday morning and the afternoon party planned by Mrs. Nellie Call at her home on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. King was a high school friend of the honor guest at the affairs.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

DO YOU EAT POISONS?

Any noon in a Bismarck restaurant you see indoor workers, who don't get much exercise, eating an order of meat large enough to feed four bloodhounds in an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show.

Bad business. This is why, says the Red Cross. There are two kinds of foods—repair foods and fuel foods.

Repair foods, called "proteins" by doctors, include meats, eggs, etc. They rebuild body tissues that have been wasted through exercise and muscular work.

Fuel foods include bread, vegetables, sugar, butter, etc. Doctors call them "carbohydrates and fats." They keep the machinery of the body in motion, and store up energy and heat.

You need both fuel foods and repair foods. But there's grave danger if you don't balance them properly.

Too much protein decays in the bowels and makes poisons. This works the liver and kidneys too hard in throwing off the poisons. Degenerative disease (like cancer and heat, blood and kidney troubles) start this way.

Eat sparingly of meats and eggs, particularly if you sit in an office all day.

Eat plentifully of vegetables and fruit. And now's a good time to start. The fresh vegetable season has begun.

Probably the fellow who has a bushel of German marks laughs at the worthless stone money used in Yap.

BIG FOUR ON ALL FOURS

Has a book agent hooked you into buying any of the 1001 histories of "What Really Happened at the Peace Conference"?

If so, you probably have the notion (granted that you read the books) that the peace conference had all the solemnity of high school graduation "exercises."

But the Big Four actually crawled around on their hands and knees when they were carving the map of Europe; according to Dr. Charles Seymour's book, "What Really Happened at Paris."

He says: "The Council of Four met in the front room of President Wilson's house. There one might have seen President Wilson himself on all fours, kneeling on a gigantic map spread upon the floor and tracing with his finger a proposed boundary, other plenipotentiaries grouped around him, also on all fours. In such matters the president took a keener interest than either Lloyd George or Clemenceau, and absorbed with extraordinary speed the salient points relating to an issue, which were frequently whispered to him by some American expert sitting on the sofa beside him."

This sounds like a gang of men repairing a flivver, rather than a peace conference. Inducing European diplomats to get down on the carpet and crawl about on all fours is in tune with American "shirtsleeves" diplomacy.

Diplomats, after all, are human beings, and there come times when the dignity of silk hats and high collars has to be laid aside. For instance, when the head of the German reparations committee takes out his china pipe and has to ask Lloyd George for a match. Or when the map to be divided anew covers so much territory that it has to be spread on the floor or inspected from a stepladder.

Funny, isn't it? The fellow who lives near the seashore is planning to go to the mountains and the man in the mountains plans a seashore vacation.

THE PLACE YOU DREAM OF

There still remains one place on earth, inhabited by white people, where there's no work—and no taxes, no laws, no police, no tag days, no straphanging, no alarm clocks—and nothing to worry about.

Tristan da Cunha is the place. It's an island in the south Atlantic ocean, 1,500 miles southwest of St. Helena, where the imprisoned Napoleon died. The Tristanites are descendants of the relief garrison of British soldiers stationed there during Napoleon's captivity.

Tristan is such a healthy place that nobody ever gets sick, so there are no doctors. Once the people had a chest of medicine, but about 10 years ago they got tired of having it around in the way, so they ditched it into the sea.

You've dreamed of a place like Tristan. It's the sort of paradise you yearn for when life in Bismarck gets our goat and you'd like to crawl in a hole and pull the hole after you.

Only about 100 people live on Tristan, but they boast that no one ever wanted to leave.

The only ship that ever visits them is a British cruiser that drops in once a year. No other contact with the outside world. If you could stow away aboard that cruiser, you'd find, at Tristan:

An island 21 miles around. A snow-clad extinct volcano rising in the center. A small village on a fertile green peninsula. Nothing to make people work. Nothing to pay taxes for.

The inhabitants eat fish, wild fowl, birds' eggs, clams, fruit and wild potatoes. When they want meat, they go out and kill wild sheep or cattle. Clothing and ammunition are obtained from the crew of the cruiser by bartering skins of the seals that sport on Tristan's rocky shores.

Tristan is said to be the only white settlement in the world that has no organized government.

Inherited discipline from the people's soldier-ancestors, along with such an abundance of everything that there's no reason for committing theft or other crime, has made laws and organized government unnecessary.

The nearest neighbors are 1,200 miles away. While everybody in Tristan has all he wants and is contented, there's nothing worth stealing by invaders. Hence, no worry about wars.

You finish life's race breathless.

And another fellow who has a soft snap at this time of year is the leading man in bathing girl comedies.

Many a hard working paragrapher wonders who he ever grew up when he reads Jackie Coogan making a million a year.

The Girl Next Door suggests that a perfectly lovely bathing suit can be made of the woolen hose she wore last winter.

Mr. Einstein will confer a great boon upon mankind if his theory of space and time makes pay days occur more frequently.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE VICE OF BEING WELL

The discussion of health by the doctors in session at Pinehurst this week calls to mind the singular antipathy the human race manifests toward good health. You have noticed many a time that if you intimate to the fellows you talk to that his heart is all right, or that he has no more liver ailments than a wagon, that he immediately proceeds to show you how far you are wrong and to prove that his heart has been bad since the year of the big frost, and that his liver and spleen and dorsal vertebra and tendon of Achilles has not worked right for seventeen years and is getting delightfully worse every time he takes the hood off and looks at his gear.

Funny critters we all are. It is a singular fact, but it seems to be a sort of reproach for anybody to tell any of us we are well, and the chief reason we tolerate doctors at all is that they confess right at the start that the fellow who comes for medicine has something the matter with him.—Raleigh News & Observer.

WHY SHOULD EXPERIENCE BE IDLE?

There is no probability that Postmaster General Hays will get a Carnegie medal for taking the arbitrary age limit out of the retirement order for postoffice employees. Yet it is quite possible that by this act he has qualified as a lifesaver.

Under the order as it stood, men had to retire at 65, women at 62. Among the everyday busy people of the world are men and women carrying much greater burdens of years, doing their share of the world's work as ably and eagerly as any younger workers. For many of these to let go of activity would be a step just ahead of letting go of life itself.

Economic advantage there always is in the retention of experience in the public service. That there is a phase of the humane in keeping veterans at work is a detail which often is overlooked but which we like to think was in the mind of Mr. Hays.

Rather difficult from the postal instance is the case of the mandatory bill, just vetoed by Mayor Hylan, for the pensioning, at their request, at age of 50, of New York street cleaners who have served twenty years. Under such a measure the department would come face to face with that menace of a vanishing fund which once confronted the police department. There would be repeated too the experience of old police-pension days, with retired men taking new jobs and drawing on two paymasters. Neither economy nor humanity is served by drawing a dead-line on industry in Middle Age and compelling experiences to be idle.—New York World.

DYNAMITE!

REID AT THE ELTINGE

Wallace Reid's latest Paramount picture, "The Love Special," is different from any in which Mr. Reid has been seen for some time. It is a picture of the great outdoors, with real thrills, beautiful natural settings and a delightful romance. Mr. Reid plays the role of a construction engineer on a mountain railroad division. The production contains a great many beautiful exterior scenes, most of which were filmed in the famous Yosemite Valley.

It is founded on "The Daughter of a Magnate," one of the best novels of Frank R. Stockton, a well known writer of railroad stories.

THE ROUND UP SCORES

Roscoe Arbuckle, for many years the foremost comedian on the screen, and whose popularity is unbounded, has scored heavily in his first Paramount picture production of "The Round Up" at the Bismarck theater tonight. This is George Melford's picture, which has held the stage for several years with exceptional success. The picture is, in anything, the story is more developed, the dramatic interest heightened and the photography all that could be asked for. Mabel Julienne Scott plays opposite the star.

AMIDON ASSERTS STATE ENTITLED TO APPOINTMENT

Another Federal Judge is Needed in State at This Time, Judge Says

HAS DONE WORK OF TWO

Fargo, May 20.—North Dakota, according to Judge Amidon, is entitled to have a federal judge on the ground all the time. He said that Jayme, who is holding a jury term in only in holding a jury term and that the United States district court is doing nothing unless there are Indians and jurymen around.

The fact is, according to the jurist, that the important cases are chancery cases or cases in which a jury has been waived. It is seldom that a jury term lasts more than a week and for a term to last longer than two weeks has hardly occurred during the 25 years that Judge Amidon has been on the bench. He said that 80 per cent of the judicial work is done in his chambers and requires a judge to be present, his services being needed from day to day.

"So it is a grave mistake," said Judge Amidon, "to think that simply having a judge darts into the district and hold jury terms means he is performing the duties of a federal judge."

"I have often regretted that I have been compelled to be out of the district so much as I have been in the doing of work in other districts and in sitting in the circuit court of appeals. That has been a real hardship upon the bar and the people of the state. As it was necessary, however, to meet the pressing calls to do work where work seemed most imperative, I considered that it was one of the unfavorable features of the federal court."

In Favor of the Law.
Judge Amidon said that he is in favor of the law that is now pending

GRAND FORKS MAN OBLIGED TO STOP WORK

Harfee Says He Was In Bad Shape Before Taking Tanlac—Is All Right Now

"Tanlac has been so fine for me that I have already recommended it to many of my friends, and I want to let everybody else I can reach know about it," said W. J. Harfee, "well-known employee of the Red River Power Company, and who lives at 211 Klitson avenue, Grand Forks, N. D."

"Before I got Tanlac I had suffered a general breakdown in health and felt bad all the time. My appetite was mighty poor and the little I ate didn't seem to give me any strength or energy. At times I felt so sick and weak that I would break out all over with perspiration and I would have to stop work. I took all kinds of medicines and treatments but nothing seemed to reach my case, for I didn't get any better."

"I finally got started on Tanlac, and what this medicine has done for me is certainly something to be thankful for. I eat good and hearty at every meal now, and the medicine has relieved me entirely of that weak, worn out feeling. Why, I am just brimful of new life and energy and am in better health than I have been in years. I am mighty strong for Tanlac and my wife, who is a professional nurse, things just as much of the medicine as I do."

In congress for the appointment of an additional federal judge in the state. "I think it should be passed as an additional judge appointed," he said. "On Aug. 31, I shall have been on the bench for 25 years. During that time I have done the work of two judges."

"I have done nearly all the work of North Dakota and have done much more work out of the state in other districts and on the circuit court of appeals than my entire work in North Dakota."

"There is only one district judge in the Eighth circuit, which extends from Manitoba to Texas and from the Mississippi river to New Mexico—who was on the bench at the time I was appointed. My health now forbids me to face the rigors of the North Dakota climate any more. My physicians have spoken emphatically on that subject."

"My associates on the bench tell me that during the five years remaining before I reach the age of 70, when I shall be entitled to retire, I am entitled to do no more work than is consistent with my strength. That sentiment has been so generally expressed that I think it must be true. Appointment Must Be Sound."

"Now, to return to the law that is pending before congress. Unless it is made entirely clear that the appointee will be sound on national prohibition the law will not pass. Mr. Volstead is chairman of the judiciary committee and will control the bill."

"I remember that Minnesota was sorely in need of an additional judge for 20 years and during all that time the bill was passed by the senate at every session but failed in the house. The law finally got through. Judge Morris of Minnesota, was a member of the house and it was generally understood that if the bill passed, he would be appointed judge."

Qualifications Outlined.
"I will only say this about the appointee. His integrity must be clean and he must be a first rate lawyer and equal to any lawyer who will appear before him. The matter of supreme importance is to get a man of unimpeachable moral integrity."

"The state is now rent by political factions. There is not an able lawyer who does not belong to one of these factions. Any man who has not identified himself with one side or another in the important issues now pending would not be a good American or a good judge."

"On this subject, however, this is the capital matter and which I want to emphasize. The fact that a man belongs to one political faction ought not to entitle him to be appointed. Neither ought the fact that he belongs to another political faction, disqualify him to be appointed."

"We will all agree that the office is not political patronage, but can we step to a higher level and say that the fact that a man belongs to a certain political faction does not disqualify him to be selected for federal judge? That surely is something we ought to go apart from our passions and think over, and see where the truth lies. Political factions have no more to do with this than religious denominations. The appointee will be in office for life. He will be serving the people of this district, and if he is an able man, the people of the whole country, long after he is unable to remember what faction he belonged to in 1921."

"The bar association is urging that a list of 5 or 10 lawyers be selected by the executive committee of the North Dakota State Bar association and that the president be urged to select the appointee from the list."

"If that list is fairly prepared it will be helpful, but if the names on the list are confined to any faction that will be clear proof that it ought to be disregarded."

It Started Something

"Your medicine is the talk of the town since pulling me from the grave. I have told dozens about it and I know of at least ten who are now taking May's Wonderful Remedy, all with good results. I never saw anything like it. One man who had been operated on for gall stone and had them come back took it and says his symptoms are all gone now and he swears he is cured." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the cancerous mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the inflammation which can be practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

Pleasing Program

A pleasing program was rendered at the auditorium last night, which was attended by a large number of Bismarck friends of the lodge, as well as members. Supreme Master Workman W. N. Narvis, of Muscatine, Ia., delivered a short address on fraternalism. The dance which was to have been given on the roof garden was given in the hall instead, because of the weather.

Members of the committees of the local lodge today expressed their thanks to the merchants of the city for their decorations during the convention and to the people generally for their generous welcome. The visiting delegates praised the local lodge committees, saying there were more "stunts" and more "life" at this convention than any in recent years.

The Great Falls, Montana, visitors, a live bunch, promised even better entertainment in 1923. The visiting delegation made a hard drive for the convention and won standing up. The

Great Falls delegation included J. H. Corcoran, Royal Visitor Menkora No. 2, Shells; Willmer Jeanette, Ed. Verberg, of Sweet Grass, Mont.; Willmer

Brownlee, of Moccasin, and Byron Yates. Ten Montana men were put through the Shells here, but will have their membership in Menkora Shells.

LOGAN'S

"We Thank You"

The secret of success in any big business is good advertising, by good, one means Honest. How long would it take to ruin The House of Heinz which is built on Honesty and Quality were they to pack inferior foods.

The name Logan in the Retail Grocery World means Honesty, Quality, and Service. As we are at all times looking for the purest and best foods packed. There are two reasons why an honest merchant will cut prices—One is on account of being overstocked—the other misjudgment in buying. We will admit we make errors but believe we are in as close touch with our business as any retailer.

This time of the year is really the hardest to make a selection of food that you think palatable.

Let us help you select your meal. We may suggest a number of prepared foods at your request and will be glad to be of service.

We have a fairly large stock of nice canned pineapple, ask us for our six can prices.

We will have the season's display of fruit and vegetables at popular prices.

Just arrived a fresh assortment of the Popular National Biscuit Cookies and Crackers.

Heinz bulk pickles always fresh in Sour, Spiced, Sweet, Sweet Mixed, Sour Splits, and Dills in two sizes.
